

Probability and Statistics (Asia Adaptation): For Engineering and the Computing Sciences

By J. Susan Milton, Kwong Liu, Jesse C. Arnold

McGraw-Hill Education - Europe, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 255 x 203 mm. Language: N/A. Brand New Book. This textbook helps students to understand statistical methods and reasoning as well as practice in using them. The examples and exercises are specially chosen for those looking for careers in the engineering and computing sciences. The text is intended as a first course in probability and applied statistics for students. A set of exercises is provided throughout the text, in a section for every chapter. In addition, each chapter has a set of review exercises in which the problems are presented in random order. It is hoped that this will help the student develop the ability to recognise the appropriate analysis. Many exercises are left open-ended in hopes of stimulating some classroom discussion. The use of electronic calculators with some built-in statistical capability is encouraged, for it allows the student to concentrate on the interpretation of the analysis rather than on the arithmetic computations. The contents of this edition focus on the applications of Statistics, rather than the mathematical details. Bearing this in mind, a section titled Real World Application has been added to three topics-Comparing Two Means and Two...
