LANGUAGE AND LANGUAGE ACQUISITION

Book Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Springer, Berlin | F. LOWENTHAL University of Mons Mons, Belgium In September 1980, researchers from many different countries and working in disciplines as varied as philosophy, psychology, neurology, mathematics, education, linguistics, sociology, and others we forget to mention, again met in Mons to discuss problems concerning Language and Language Acquisition. Conflicting opinions among researchers not only from different disciplines, but also within a same discipline, led to many a lively discussion. This book attempts to recreate the atmosphere of the conference, by reproducing the different papers, some of which were rewritten after the initial presentation and discussion-session, and by giving a summary of each discussion session to enable the reader to understand how each participant reacted. Obviously, we accept full responsibility for these summaries: we hope we have understood correctly what each participant meant. This also holds for the special session devoted to an attempt to define the concept of "language". We suggest that further meetings should study language and context simultaneously, within the framework of a "CONTEXTUAL LINGUISTICS". | Reanalysis as a source of semantic change.- References as parts of speech acts in the education of mathematics.- The growth of language structure: a report.- Investigating knowledge of chemistry through a study of language.- Wittgenstein and cognitive theory.- The discrepancy between cognitive and linguistic abilities in the young child.- Summary of the first discussion session.- A few problems relating to the semantic representation of argumentation.- The development of control of language in mathematical activity.- The differentiation of negative statements between the ages of 12 and 15 years.- Semantic development of simple classification terms.- The child's construction of the social order of the classroom.- A metalanguage of syntactic description.- Summary of the second discussion session.- The learning of algorithmic concepts by action: A study with deaf children.-...
