PARAMETRIZATION

Betascript Publishers Jan 2010, 2010. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 220x150x5 mm. Neuware - High Quality Content by WIKIPEDIA articles! Parametrization is the process of deciding and defining the parameters necessary for a complete or relevant specification of a model or geometric object. Sometimes, this may only involve identifying certain parameters or variables. If, for example, the model is of a wind turbine with a particular interest in the efficiency of power generation, then the parameters of interest will probably include...
